Research Papers

Reassessing the Housing Ladder: Evidence from Age Patterns, Heterogeneous Returns and Housing Purchase Behavior
Work in Progress
(Uses HMDA mortgage originations matched to local house price data to study empirical age patterns in housing purchases and heterogeneity in housing capital gains to relate those fact to life-cycle model with housing)

The Impact of Discretization on Estimation and Inference of Structural Models
Co-authored: I.Komunjer
Work in Progress
(Studies how state-space discretization affects structural estimation in a consumption–savings model, using simulation-based estimation)

Social Mobility and Formation of Economic Barriers
